The Early English Text Society was started by Dr. Furnivall in 1864 for the purpose of bringing the mass of Old English Literature within the reach of the ordinary student, and of wiping away the reproach under which England had long rested, of having felt little interest in the monuments of her early language and life.

On the starting of the Society, so many Texts of importance were at once taken in hand by its Editors, that it became necessary in 1867 to open, besides the Original Series with which the Society began, an Extra Series which should be mainly devoted to fresh editions of all that is most valuable in printed MSS. and Caxton's and other black-letter books, though first editions of MSS. will not be excluded when the convenience of issuing completed Texts demands their inclusion in the Extra Series.

During the thirty-one years of the Society's existence, it has produced, with whatever shortcomings, an amount of good solid work for which all students of our Language, and some of our Literature, must be grateful, and which has renderd possible the beginnings (at least) of proper Histories and Dictionaries of that Language and Literature, and has illustrated the thoughts, the life, the manners and customs of our forefathers.

But the Society's experience has shown the very small number of those inheritors of the speech of Cynewulf, Chaucer, and Shakspere who care two guineas a year for the records of that speech. 'Let the dead past bury its dead' is still the cry of Great Britain and her Colonies, and of America, in the matter of language. The Society has never had money enough to produce the Texts that could easily have been got ready for it; and many Editors are now anxious to send to press the work they have prepared. The necessity has therefore arisen for trying whether more Texts can be got out by the plan of issuing them in advance of the current year, so that those Members who like to pay for them by advance Subscriptions, can do so, while those who prefer to wait for the year for which the volumes are markt, can do so too. To such waiters, the plan will be no injury, but a gain, as every year's Texts will then be ready on the New Year's Day on which the Subscription for them is paid.

The success of this plan will depend on the support it receives from Members, as it is obvious that the Society's printers must be paid half or two-thirds of their bill for a Text within a few months of its production. Appeal is therefore made to all Members who can spare advance Subscriptions, to pay them as soon as they get notice that the Texts for any future year are ready. In 1892, the Texts for 1893 were issued; in 1893, those for 1894 and 1895; those for 1896–8 will be ready in 1896.

The Subscription to the Society, which constitutes membership, is £1 1*s.* a year [and £1 1*s.* additional for the EXTRA SERIES], due in advance on the 1st of JANUARY, and should be paid either to the Society's Account at the Head Office of the Union Bank of London, Princes Street, London, E.C., or by Cheque, Postal Order, or Money-Order to the Hon. Secretary, W. A. DALZIEL, ESQ., 67 Victoria Rd., Finsbury Park, London, N., and crost 'Union Bank of London.' (United-States Subscribers must pay for postage 1*s.* 4*d.* a year extra for the Original Series, and 1*s.* a year for the Extra Series.) The Society's Texts are also sold separately at the prices put after them in the Lists.

February 1896. For this year and 1897 the Original-Series Texts were issued in 1894, and those for 1899 are now ready. The Extra-Series Texts for 1896 will soon be ready, and those for 1897 will, it is hoped, be issued in 1896. The texts of several works are now printed. Members are askt to send their two- or three-years' subscriptions for both Series at once in advance.

The Original-Series Texts for 1895 are—No. 104, Part I of Mr. Gollancz's re-edition of The Exeter Book, from the unique MS., a collection of the choicest Anglo-Saxon lyric poetry, with a modern English translation. The second is Part I of the Prymer or Lay Folks' Prayer-Book, from the MS. ab. 1420 A.D., in the Cambr. Univ. Libr., ed. by Mr. Hy. Littlehales, with two leaves of Facsimiles. This forms a valuable portion of the Society's Pre-Reformation vernacular Liturgical Series, undertaken on the recommendation of the late Canon Simmons.

The Extra-Series Texts for 1895 are two prose Romances from unique MSS., about 1500 A.D., englisht from French originals: The Three Kings' Sons (of France, Scotland, England), Part 1, the text, ed. Dr. F. J. Furnivall; Melusine, Pt. I, the text, ed. A. K. Donald, B.A.

The Original-Series Texts for 1896 are both dialectal: No. 106, Richard Misyn's—he was Prior of Lincoln—englishings in 1434 and 1435 of Richard Rolle of Hampole's Fire of Love and Mending of Life, edited by the Rev. Rt. Harvey, M.A., Headmaster of the Cork Grammar School;—this Text, tho not in a pure dialect, is interesting for forms like sarif, for serve, &c.[1];—and No. 107, The English Conquest of Ireland, 1166-85, two parallel-texts of about 1425 and 1440, of which the earlier has now and then dyng, tynge, for thing, &c., edited by Dr. Furnivall.

The Extra-Series Texts for 1896 will doubtless be the Second Part of the prose Romance of Melusine—Introduction, with ten facsimiles of the best woodblocks of the old foreign black-letter editions, Glossary, &c., by A. K. Donald, B.A.; and a new edition of the famous Early-English Dictionary (English and Latin), Promptorium Parvulorum, from the Winchester MS., ab. 1440 A.D.: in this, the Editor, the Rev. A. L. Mayhew, M.A., will follow and print his MS. not only in its arrangement of nouns first, and verbs second, under every letter of the Alphabet, but also in its giving of the flexions of the words. The Society's edition will thus be the first modern one that really represents its original, a point on which Mr. Mayhew's insistance will meet with the sympathy of all our Members.

For 1897, the Original-Series Texts are, No. 108, Child-Marriages and -Divorces, Troth-plights, Adulteries, Affiliations, Libels, Wills, Miscellanea, Clandestine Marriages, Depositions in Trials in the Bishop's Court, Chester, A.D. 1561-6, with Entries from the Chester Mayors' Books, 1558-1600, ed. Dr. F. J. Furnivall,—a most curious volume, full of the social life of its time;—and Part II of the Pryner or Lay-Folks' Prayer-book, edited by Mr. Henry Littlehales, with a Paper by Mr. Bishop on the Origin and Growth of the Prymer.

The Extra-Series Texts for 1897 will probably be Dr. Norman Moore's re-edition of The Book of the Foundation of St. Bartholomew's Hospital, London, from the unique MS. ab. 1425, which gives an account of the Founder, Rahere, and the miraculous cures wrought at the Hospital;—Lydgate's Assembly of the Gods, ed. Dr. Oscar L. Triggs, and The Craft of Nombrynge, with other of the earliest englisht Treatises on Arithmetic, edited by R. Steele, B.A., or Alexander Scott's Poems, 1568, from the unique Edinburgh MS., ed. A. K. Donald, B.A.

The Original-Series Texts for 1898 are Nos. 110, 111,—Part II, Sections 1 and 2, of Dr. T. Miller's Collations of Four MSS. of the Old-English Version of Bede's Ecclesiastical History.

The Original-Series Texts for 1899 will be No. 112, Queen Elizabeth's Englishings of Boethius de Consolatione, Plutarch's De Curiositate, and part of Horace, De Arte Poetica, edited from the unique MS. (a portion in the Queen's own hand) in the Public Record Office, London, by the late Miss C. Pemberton, with a Facsimile, and a note on the Queen's use of i for long e; and No. 113, Jacob's Well, a quaint allegorical treatise on the cleansing and building-up of Man's Conscience, edited from the unique MS. in Salisbury Cathedral, by Dr. J. W. Brandeis.

During 1892, two unexpected sources of help to the Society sprang up. First, Mr. Henry Littlehales of Bexley Heath, who had printed a MS. of the English Prymer, ab. 1400 A.D., kindly offerd to copy, and pay for the setting, not only of the Cambridge University MS. of the Prymer, ab. 1425 A.D., but also of a series of extracts from the Rochester Diocesan Registers, illustrating the religious condition and social life of the diocese.

The second promise of help came, most gratifyingly, from the University of Chicago. Two Professors in the English Department there, Mr. MacClintock and Mr. Oscar Triggs—with the assent of their Principal, Dr. Harper—agreed to edit and print at the Chicago University Press, two Early English Texts to be issued jointly by the University and the E. E. T. Society, the Society paying for its electrotypes. Prof. MacClintock chose the theological collection of John Lacy of Newcastle, A.D. 1434, and Prof. Triggs chose Lydgate's Assembly of the Gods. The latter of these is now at press in Chicago.

[1] The first issue of the Glossary has been canceld, and a revised one issued.

Such relief as the E. E. T. Soc. gets from the above-named helpers will be devoted to its Reprinting Fund. The out-of-print Texts for 1866 are greatly wanted by members and collectors to complete their sets of the Society's publications.

An urgent appeal is hereby made to Members to increase the list of Subscribers to the E. E. Text Society. It is nothing less than a scandal that the Hellenic Society should have nearly 1000 members, while the Early English Text Society has only about 300!

The Original-Series Texts for 1900 and 1901 will be chosen from books already at press: Part II of the Minor Poems of the Vernon MS., edited by Dr. F. J. Furnivall; Mr. Gollancz's re-edited Exeter-Book—Anglo-Saxon Poems from the unique MS. in Exeter Cathedral—Part II; Dr. Bruce's Introduction to The English Conquest of Ireland, Part II; Dr. Furnivall's edition of the Lichfield Gilds, which is all printed, and waits only for the Introduction, that Prof. E. C. K. Gonner has kindly undertaken to write for the book. Prof. Mead has sent to press the completion of the prose Merlin, for which the Society has been looking in vain from its Treasurer since 1870. Miss Mary Bateson has at press George Ashby's Active Policy of a Prince, &c., from the unique MS., A.D. 1463. Mr. Utley is home from Roumania, and promises to finish Lyndesay's Works this year. Dr. G. Herzfeld's re-edition of the Anglo-Saxon Martyrology is all in type. Part II of Dr. Holthausen's Vices and Virtues needs only its Glossary.

Mr. Steele has in type, besides the earliest Treatise on Arithmetic, englisht from Johannes de Sacro Bosco, two prose englishings of the Secreta Secretorum from MSS. at Lambeth, the second of which is very rich in new words. A version by James Yonge in 1428, made for the Earl of Ormonde, has been copied from its Rawlinson MS. at Oxford, and collated with the later Lambeth MS. All three versions differ widely.

The Texts for the Extra Series in 1898 and 1899 will be chosen from The Three Kings' Sons, Part II, the Introduction &c. by Dr. Leon Kellner; The Towneley Plays, re-edited from the unique MS. by Mr. George England and A. W. Pollard, M.A.; Part II of The Chester Plays, re-edited from the MSS., with a full collation of the formerly missing Devonshire MS., by Mr. G. England (at press); the Parallel-Text of the only two MSS. of the Owl and Nightingale, edited by Mr. G. F. H. Sykes (at press); Hoccleve's englishing of De Regimine Principum, 1411-12, and Robert of Brunne's Handlyng Synne, edited by Dr. Furnivall; Deguilleville's Pilgrimage of the Life of Man, three prose versions—two English, one French—edited by G. N. Currie, M.A. Some of these Texts will be ready in 1894. Members are therefore askt to send Advance Subscriptions for 1897, 1898, 1899 and 1900, in order that the 1897-1900 books may be issued to them as soon as the editions are finisht. The Society's experience has shown that Editors must be taken when they are in the humour for work. All real Students and furtherers of the Society's purpose will be ready to push-on the issue of Texts. Those Members who care only a guinea a year (or can afford only that sum) for the history of our language and our nation's thought, will not be hurt by those who care more, getting their books in advance; on the contrary, they will be benefited, as each successive year's work will then be ready for issue on New Year's Day. Members are askt to realise the fact that the Society has now 50 years' work on its Lists,—at its present rate of production,—and that there is from 100 to 200 more years' work to come after that. The year 2000 will not see finisht all the Texts that the Society ought to print.

Mr. G. N. Currie is preparing an edition of the 15th and 16th century Prose Versions of Guillaume de Deguilleville's Pilgrimage of the Life of Man, with the French prose version by Jean Gallopes, from Mr. Henry Hucks Gibbs's MS., Mr. Gibbs having generously promist to pay the extra cost of printing the French text, and engraving one or two of the illuminations in his MS.

Guillaume de Deguilleville, monk of the Cistercian abbey of Chaalis, in the diocese of Senlis, wrote his first verse Pelerinaige de l'Homme in 1330-1 when he was 36.[1] Twenty-five (or six) years after, in 1355, he revised his poem, and issued a second version of it, and this is the only one that has been printed. Of the prose representative of the first version, 1330-1, a prose Englishing, about 1430 A.D., was edited by Mr. Aldis Wright for the Roxburghe Club in 1869, from MS. Ff. 5. 30 in the Cambridge University Library. Other copies of this prose English are in the Hunterian Museum, Glasgow, Q. 2. 25; Univ. Coll. and Corpus Christi, Oxford[2]; and the Laud Collection in the Bodleian, no. 740. A copy in the Northern dialect is MS. G. 21, in St. John's Coll., Cambridge, and this is the MS. which will be edited by Mr. Sidney J. Herrtage for the E. E. Text Society. The Laud MS. 740 was somewhat condenst and modernised, in the 17th century, into MS. Ff. 6. 30, in the Cambridge University Library:[3] "The Pilgrime or the Pilgrimage of Man in this World," copied by Will. Baspoole, whose copy "was verbatim written by Walter Parker, 1645, and from thence transcribed by G. G. 1649; and from thence by W. A. 1655." This last copy may have been read by, or its story reported to, Bunyan, and may have been the groundwork of his Pilgrim's Progress.

[1] He was born about 1295. See Abbé GOUJET'S Bibliotheque française, Vol. IX, p. 73-4.—P. M.

[2] These 3 MSS. have not yet been collated, but are believed to be all of the same version.

[3] Another MS. is in the Pepys Library.

Digitized by Google

It will be edited by Mr. Currie for the E. E. T. Soc., its text running under the earlier English, as in Mr. Herrtage's edition of the Gesta Romanorum for the Society. In February 1464,[1] Jean Gallopes—a clerk of Angers, afterwards chaplain to John, Duke of Bedford, Regent of France—turned Deguilleville's first verse Pelcrinaige into a prose Pèlerinage de la vie humaine.[2] By the kindness of Mr. Hy. Hucks Gibbs, as above mentiond, Gallopes's French text will be printed opposite the early prose northern Englishing in the Society's edition.

The Second Version of Deguilleville's Pelerinaige de l'Homme, A.D. 1355 or -6, was englisht in verse by Lydgate in 1426. Of Lydgate's poem, the larger part is in the Cotton MS. Vitellius C. xiii (leaves 2-308). This MS. leaves out Chaucer's englishing of Deguilleville's A B C or Prayer to the Virgin, of which the successive stanzas start with A, B, C, and run all thro' the alphabet; and it has 2 gaps, of which most of the second can be fild up from the end of the other imperfect MS. Cotton, Tiberius A vii. The rest of the stopgaps must be got from the original French in Harleian 4399,[3] and Additional 22,937[4] and 25,594[5] in the British Museum. Lydgate's version will be edited in due course for the Society.

Besides his first Pelerinaige de l'homme in its two versions, Deguilleville wrote a second, "de l'ame separee du corps," and a third, "de nostre seigneur Iesus." Of the second, a prose Englishing of 1413, The Pilgrimage of the Sowle (perhaps in part by Lydgate), exists in the Egerton MS. 615,[6] at Hatfield, Cambridge (Univ. Kk. 1. 7, Caius), Oxford (Univ. Coll. and Corpus), and in Caxton's edition of 1483. This version has 'somewhat of addicions' as Caxton says, and some shortenings too, as the maker of both, the first translator, tells us in the MSS. Caxton leaves out the earlier englisher's interesting Epilog in the Egerton MS. This prose englishing of the Sowle will be edited for the Society after that of the Man is finisht, and will have Gallopes's French opposite it, from Mr. Gibbs's MS., as his gift to the Society. Of the Pilgrimage of Jesus, no englishing is known.

As to the MS. Anglo-Saxon Psalters, Dr. Hy. Sweet has edited the oldest MS., the Vespasian, in his Oldest English Texts for the Society, and Mr. Harsley has edited the latest, c. 1150, Eadwine's Canterbury Psalter. The other MSS., except the Paris one, being interlinear versions,—some of the Roman-Latin redaction, and some of the Gallican,—Prof. Logeman has prepared for press, a Parallel-Text edition of the first twelve Psalms, to start the complete work. He will do his best to get the Paris Psalter—tho' it is not an interlinear one—into this collective edition; but the additional matter, especially in the Verse-Psalms, is very difficult to manage. If the Paris text cannot be parallelised, it will form a separate volume. The Early English Psalters are all independent versions, and will follow separately in due course.

Through the good offices of the Examiners, some of the books for the Early-English Examinations of the University of London will be chosen from the Society's publications, the Committee having undertaken to supply such books to students at a large reduction in price. The profits from these sales, after the payment of costs arising out of the issuing of such Texts to Students, will be applied to the Society's Reprints. Five of its 1866 Texts, and one of its 1867 (now at press), still need reproducing. Donations for this purpose will be welcome. They should be paid to the Hon. Sec., Mr. W. A. Dalziel, 67 Victoria Rd., Finsbury Park, London, N.

Members are reminded that fresh Subscribers are always wanted, and that the Committee can at any time, on short notice, send to press an additional Thousand Pounds' worth of work.

The Subscribers to the Original Series must be prepared for the issue of the whole of the Early English Lives of Saints, sooner or later. The Society cannot leave out any of them, even though some are dull. The Sinners would doubtless be much more interesting. But in many Saints' Lives will be found valuable incidental details of our forefathers' social state, and all are worthful for the history of our language. The Lives may be lookt on as the religious romances or story-books of their period.

The Standard Collection of Saints' Lives in the Corpus and Ashmole MSS., the Harleian MS. 2277, &c. will repeat the Laud set, our No. 87, with additions, and in right order. (The foundation MS. (Laud 108) had to be printed first, to prevent quite unwieldy collations.) The Supplementary Lives from the Vernon and other MSS. will form one or two separate volumes.

Besides the Saints' Lives, Trevisa's englishing of Bartholomæus de Proprietatibus Rerum, the mediæval Cyclopædia of Science, &c., will be the Society's next big undertaking. Dr. R. von Fleischhacker will edit it. Prof. Napier of Oxford, wishing to have the whole of our MS. Anglo-Saxon in type, and accessible to students, will edit for the Society all the unprinted and other Anglo-Saxon Homilies which are not included in Thorpe's edition of

1 According to Mr. Hy. Hucks Gibbs's MS.
2 These were printed in France, late in the 15th or early in the 16th century.
3 15th cent., containing only the Vie humaine.
4 15th cent., containing all the 3 Pilgrimages, the 3rd being Jesus Christ's.
5 14th cent., containing the Vie humaine and the 2nd Pilgrimage, de l'Ame: both incomplete.
6 Ab. 1430, 106 leaves (leaf 1 of text wanting), with illuminations of nice little devils—red, green, tawny &c.—and damnd souls, fires, angels &c.

Ælfric's prose,[1] Dr. Morris's of the Blickling Homilies, and Prof. Skeat's of Ælfric's Metrical Homilies. Prof. Kölbing has also undertaken for the Society's Extra Series a Parallel-Text of all the six MSS. of the Ancren Riwle, one of the most important foundation-documents of Early English. Mr. Harvey, too, means to prepare an edition of the three MSS. of the Earliest English Metrical Psalter, one of which was edited by the late Mr. Stevenson for the Surtees Society.

In case more Texts are ready at any time than can be paid for by the current year's income, they will be dated the next year, and issued in advance to such Members as will pay advance subscriptions. The 1886-7 delay in getting out Texts must not occur again, if it can possibly be avoided. The Director has in hand for future volunteer Editors, copies of 2 or 3 MSS.

Members of the Society will learn with pleasure that its example has been followed, not only by the Old French Text Society which has done such admirable work under its founders Profs. Paul Meyer and Gaston Paris, but also by the Early Russian Text Society, which was set on foot in 1877, and has since issued many excellent editions of old MS. Chronicles &c.

Members will also note with pleasure the annexation of large tracts of our Early English territory by the important German contingent under General Zupitza, Colonel Kölbing, volunteers Hausknecht, Einenkel, Haenisch, Kaluza, Hupe, Adam, Holthausen, Schick, Herzfeld, Brandeis, &c. Scandinavia has also sent us Prof. Erdmann; Holland, Prof. H. Logeman, who is now working in Belgium; France, Prof. Paul Meyer—with Gaston Paris as adviser; —Italy, Prof. Lattanzi; Hungary, Dr. von Fleischhacker; while America is represented by Prof. Child, Dr. Mary Noyes Colvin, Profs. Mead, Perrin, McClintock, Triggs, &c. The sympathy, the ready help, which the Society's work has cald forth from the Continent and the United States, have been among the pleasantest experiences of the Society's life, a real aid and cheer amid all troubles and discouragements. All our Members are grateful for it, and recognise that the bond their work has woven between them and the lovers of language and antiquity across the seas is one of the most welcome results of the Society's efforts.

INTRODUCTION.

THIS Part gives completely the variations of the existing MSS. from the printed text. Fresh study of the MSS. enables me to add some particulars of interest as to C. O. B. See Introduction to Part I.

MS. C. The fresh hand which wrote leaves 35, 36 (Text 480, 20 to end), wrote also leaves 39–47 (the A. S. Chron. G). Page 34^b contains only twelve lines, the rest being blank. Consequently the MS. may have originally ended here. The fragments of G. are in more than one hand. G. is assigned to Canterbury (Earle), but there is nothing to favour this supposition in the case of C. The close connexion between the English Bede and the A. S. C. will find further illustration in the text of MS. B.

MS. B. The scribe at the end of this MS. claims to have written all (Introd. u. s.). He wrote all of one part. For I have found that the MS. is in two portions, the first containing thirteen quaternions and one leaf (up to end of p. 206), the second containing eighteen quaternions (p. 207 to end). The hands are as follows: I. p. 1=Text 6, 4–13. II. pp. 2–190, 20=Text 6, 14—24, 23; 2, 1—6, 3; 24, 29—64, 5; 88, 28—240, 29; III. 190, 20 pegma leah—206=Text 240, 30—252, 3; 64, 6—72, 19 ælmihtigan. IV. 207—end=Text 72, 19, gode—88, 27; 252, 4—end. I, III, IV are by three separate scribes. The hands in II belong to various other scribes. The illuminator's work in the two parts is different in design, and where (rarely) carried out, different in execution. Perhaps the scribe of I was illuminator for all the first part. The scribe of IV fills in his own initials in the interrogations, but the illuminations were not completed. The signatures of the sheets in the two parts are independent; the last signature marked in the first part is M; the first in the second part is A on p. 222, and then follow regularly B to R. The junction at pp. 206–207 is very evident. Mr. Warner of the British Museum kindly inspected photographs of these pages, and dated the very beautiful writing about 1030–1040 A.D.

MS. O. Two styles are discernible in the hands, round and pointed, but the subvarieties are not so distinct. There is a very striking departure from these modes on p. 47[a] (here only). This scribe employs thin, upright strokes, with a flat topped a, prolonged verticals and occasionally clubbed tops, but d is bent back and kept low; all has an archaistic look. The full text will be found in V. R. p. 226 f. The other hands interlace often on the same page, nor is it always easy to discriminate exactly. The ordinary pointed occurs on p. 69[b] throughout; see V. R. p. 63 ff. Round shares p. 22[b] with pointed, which runs from compode (inclusive) to the end; see V. R. p. 145. The pointed more frequently has o before nasals and þæm in dative rather than þam. The round on the whole takes the lead and prevails. From 101[b] on (= Text 320, 7) the pointed style recurs oftener. I have drawn up a complete scheme of hands throughout, but feel uncertain as to exact minor details, and withhold it.

An examination of the place names in the various MSS., and comparison with the A. S. Chronicle, as well as the C(artularium) S(axonicum) and C(odex) D(iplomaticus), has enabled me to determine approximately the locality of each MS., and to confirm the conclusion arrived at in the Introduction to Part I, that the translator belonged to the North Midland district. In a paper, which I hope to publish, on the Place Names in Bede's History, I have given full details, and must here limit myself to a few particulars and a statement of results. The translator or archetype knew the North (not Cumberland) and Midlands, was unacquainted with East Anglia, London, and the country south of the Thames. All the MSS. betray ignorance of the extreme North. T. alone is perfect in Yorkshire, and has local forms in Lincoln; but the South and East Anglia were not for T. familiar ground. B. blunders in the North, and along the line of the Thames E. and W., but has intimate local knowledge of the country lying in and about Hants. In O. the variety of scribes and the numerous erasures complicate the question, but the MS. may with confidence be assigned to S.W. Mercia. There can be little doubt that Ca. belongs to the adjoining districts, and may be located not far from Malmesbury. C. may, perhaps, be placed on the South Midland border midway between E. and W. The defects in this MS. hinder identification, but certain affinities are well marked[1].

By these affinities we may reclass the MSS. which, on other grounds, fall under two recensions (I. T.B. II. C.O. Ca.; see Introd. Pt. I).

For 'Britain' A.S.C. A. has Breten always up to 601 (C. in poetry under 937). Thence in A., and the rule in all MSS. Bryten. For 'Briton,' however, A.S.C. A. has Brett- ten examples (G. only three examples), last in 890; other MSS. Brytt-. Orosius has Brettas, Bret(t)anie, Brittannia, Brettania. Ælfric Bryttas. O. E. B. chiefly Breoton, Bryten; Brett-, Brytt-.

The table shows all combinations of vowels in the syllables.

Breoton, (never in A. S. C.) may be taken as Mercian; cp. Sweet, H. E. S. § 431.

The early Brett- continues to be the Midland form. Bry- is Southern.

Angl- &c., occur as (1) = 'Angle'; (2) 'English'; (3) as first part of compounds; (4) as second part of compounds (always -engl-). The table shows the variations of Angel- ongol- in O. E. B. The form Engle is, except as (4), very rare in O. E. B.; it occurs three times in T., always = (1); in MS. O. Ca. B. the use is indiscriminate for (1) and (2). In A. S. C. Engle is used for (2), except 596 B. C. 975 C. where Angle = 'English.' (In 975 D. E. Angle = 'Angles.') For (3) A. S. C. has (i) Angel, (ii) Ongol, (iii) Ongel, (iv) Engel-, (v) Ængel-; (i) being general, the others sporadic; (ii) and (iii) once each in A. (G. only ongel); (iv) and (v) in D. 787 (e), 836 (æ), 886 (æ). N.B.—æ = e is a characteristic of D.'s first hand. In all there are 200 examples of the word prefixed in A. S. C., the second part being cyn always (except F. 873 -scole). The collective examples of all MSS. in O. E. B. amount to over 400 under heads 1, 2, 3.

That ong- is Midland, ang- Southern, clear from the A. S. C., as well as from the ordinary usage of dialect[1]. Ælfric has Angle = 'Angles,' Engla ðeode = 'English,' E. land = 'England.' I have excluded Engla (-e) land in A. S. C. which occurs in eleventh century (about thirty examples). In O. E. B. it = 'l. of Angles.'

'Northumbrian.'—In A. S. C. the first part is spelt norðan- or norð- in these proportions: A. G. $\frac{12}{15}$; B. $\frac{10}{13}$; C. $\frac{9}{12}$; D. $\frac{5}{12}$; E. $\frac{12}{34}$; F. norð- only. In A. G. the forms begin to interchange in 867, norðan- soon ceases, and norð-, already found 601, 625, is the sole form. Norð- is therefore Alfredian and Southern: it is the form in Ælfric. The proportions in O. E. B. are T. $\frac{36}{1}$; O. $\frac{40}{1}$; Ca. $\frac{55}{2}$; C. $\frac{10}{0}$; B. norð- only (-him- is found in O. (2), B. (11); -hum- Ca. 1; -hem- Ca. 1). The isolation of B. and persistency in Ca. are in striking contrast.

'Mercian.'—A. S. C. A. has Mierce to end of ninth century, then for a few years Merce[2]; but from 922 on Myrce, which is the prevailing South form (all MSS.). G. sometimes substitutes Merce for A.'s Mierce- (Merce in A. only 853; once also each in C. D. E.

[1] From A.D. 901 o before nasals—(i) disappears rapidly from South in contemporary charters, but continues in Hereford and Worcester; (ii) is rare in A. S. C. MS. A. after 937, and throughout in MS. B. (ends 977). All exx. from all MSS. 901–1025 give o to a = $\frac{1}{2}$ A., $\frac{1}{13}$ B., $\frac{1}{10}$ C., $\frac{1}{13}$ D., $\frac{1}{26}$ E., $\frac{1}{163}$ F.; (iii) continues in N. Mercia (Rush. Mt.).

F.; but Myrce in A. four examples; G. 23; in others passim). Ælfric has Myrce. The proportions in O. E. B. are as follows: T. (all scribes) e always (æ twice); B. y always (i once); C. has e, y = $\frac{11}{1}$; O. = $\frac{23}{19}$ (often eras. of e); Ca. = $\frac{6}{54}$.

It is clear that of the MSS. T. is most distinctively Midland, and that C. comes next; O. has a larger admixture of Southern forms, and Ca. transcribing O. introduced still more. B. is distinctly Southern, and harmonizes closely with the later A. S. C. and Ælfric.

'London.'—The earlier A. S. C. prefers Lundenburh, the later Lunden: the figures are A. B. G. = $\frac{11}{3}$ (but years do not exactly correspond); C. = $\frac{15}{22}$; D. = $\frac{13}{28}$; E. = $\frac{3}{48}$; F. = $\frac{3}{17}$. Lundenwic, 604 E. (F.), is an old form; cp. C. S. 259; 494; 189; 335; 492. But in the charters from tenth century on Lunden is the general English form; cp. C. D. 280, 316, 685, 716, 759, 972, &c. [Londen C. S. 152 is not original]. I find on Lundenbyrig C. S. 1296 (but also on Lundene) before 975. Lundentun once C. S. 171 (Heming). But O. E. B. writes Lundenceaster even for Lundonia urbs, or Lundonia alone. Lundenburg is found twice; 4, 1, Ca. B. = Lundoniensis, and 478, 7 C. B.; -ceaster Ca. = Lundoniensis. Allowing all weight for the influence of the Latin civitas, we still must infer that the translator did not adhere to the Southern usage; he may have been influenced by the constant conjunction in Eoforwicceaster, which is marked both in O. E. B. and A. S. C. (A. B. G.). On the whole it may be concluded that neither translator nor scribes had local knowledge of London. A curious error in B. 104, 16, where ealandburg is read for ealdor-, shows astonishing ignorance. Can it result from a misconception of the fact stated in A. S. C. 1016, that the Danes made a new channel, and also drew a ditch round the city?

'Winchester.'—The A. S. C. varies much. The early form wintan- survives in A. G. up to 982. But winte- comes in early, A. G. 897, 909, 910 (wintan- G. 909). By the beginning of the eleventh century wint- had come in (see B. 897), and win- thenceforward prevails. Ninety charters at least have some form of the name; most are copies (Cod. Wint. twelfth century). But thirteen or fourteen Latin are contemporary and give wintana, -ia, -iensis usually, wentana, wentonia, wintoniensis very rarely. English contemporary charters (C. S. 478, 630, 678, 702?) give winta- 854; wintan- 909; winte- 931, 934. English copies as a rule give wintan- to end of tenth century, passim; winta- rarely; winte- tenth century; win- middle of eleventh century. Ælfric has wintan-, win-, wyn-. In O. E. B. there are six examples thus distributed, wintan- C. 4, O. 3, Ca. 4; winton- Ca. 1; winta- T. 2, O. 1, Ca. 1; wint- B. 6. (O. has win- twice with tan above; wint- once with a above.)

I recall here the fact (Introd. Pt. I), that the translator used a text akin to Latin I. So Wintacaestir read in Latin I. is probably origin of T.'s (archetypal) form. C. has a usual tenth century form. B. is local and eleventh century. O. is ambiguous and varies; the two examples of win- are by the same hand; the other two differ. Ca. did not correct O. as he has winton-. Of all B. alone is by other evidence associated with the neighbourhood.

It will be convenient to begin with B. in the attempt to arrive at more precise local definition. The details will affect the position of the other MSS.

I take Kent. All MSS. have Centlond (-œ-) twice 104, 15; 298, 28; B. has it in twelve other places (against all the rest), once with a mistake (150, 2). The A. S. C. has Cent passim, but Centland in MSS. C. D. 994, 1015. (A. B. very early, only in 457, 676.) The charters have mostly Cantia; Cent variously spelt, C. S. 412, C. D. 317, 715, &c.; Centland I have not found. But this use of land as affix is a feature in B.; e. g. B. has Tenetland (O. Ca. blunder 56, 28), wihtland five times (others ealand). Now Tenetland is found in A. S. C. MSS. C. D., so also wihtland in same MSS. often (I pass over E. F. which copy). In charters Tenet (various forms) often, Tenetland only C. D. 715, A.D. 1006 (forged). Thus B. of Bede and C. D. of A. S. C. unite in a usage, which seems especially eleventh century (cp. note on Engla land above). Tenet occurs in earlier years of A. S. C. always, in which also Wiht (ealand) is the usual expression. The usage is not local to Kent, and B. blunders once 150, 2; and again 56, 25 (cetrice). But for the people of Kent B. O. Ca. C. prefer rightly Cantware which is local. T. Cont. The numbers are for a: o—T. $\frac{6}{33}$, C. $\frac{10}{3}$, O. $\frac{26}{3}$, Ca. $\frac{39}{2}$, B. $\frac{39}{2}$. The A. S. C. has a passim, o only 616, 851 (both A.). Here again T. is remotest from the South, C. not so near as O. Ca. B.

The Latin Bede gives the etymology of Rochester, and the L. MSS. treat the first element (hrofes-) as gen. always. Now the English Bede has hrofes- in T. passim, O. 8, Ca. 8, C. 2, B. 1; hrofe- T. (fourth scribe) 1, O. 2, Ca. 10, C. 4, B. 13; hroue- B. 3 (only in capitula and by illuminator). But O. has es once, and s once written above (see also 150, 15); in the first case Ca. has hrofes- in the second hrofe-. The A. S. C. has hrofes- A. G. (stops 894), B. 5, C. 3, D. 5, E. hrofe- B. 2, C. 2, D. 6; E. F. hroue- E. F. The evidence of the charters is (i) hrofes- ninth, and in Textus Roffensis (local) up to the end of the tenth century, (ii) hrofe- early in the eleventh century, C. D. 929 (T. R.), (iii) hroue- C. D. 975 (T. R.) after 1058. In fact hrofes- is earliest, hrofe- belongs to later tenth and eleventh centuries, hroue- comes in about middle of eleventh century (civitas hroui C. S. 418, late copy; also T. R.). We infer for B. an eleventh century date; for Ca. also remoteness from the spot. The other MSS. exhibit the transition, T. being most archaic and probably most remote.

The name Selsey (Sussex) raises two separate questions. The Latin is Seles (-æ-) eu, but in MS. II (Sweet) eu is also written ei. This is the Saxon (cp. Ceortes ei L. B.) form for the Northumbrian eu, and the non-Saxon ea, which last is specially Kentish and Midland, as I have shown elsewhere. The translator employed ea mostly for eu, and therefore here. But the local form was always Saxon, e. g. C. S. 1334 (orig. of A. D. 780) has Sioles aei (æi=ei), C. S. 312 (A. D. 803) orig. seles egi; eleventh century copy seolesegiae. We find also ige, (C. S. 64, 132), eie, &c. The A. S. C. 980 (C.) has æt seolesigge. The Bede MSS. have C. O. Ca. Seles ea. O. Ca. Syles ea, B. Seolesig, æt Seolesigge (T. defect.). B. then alone is local in the ending. But it seems certain that seo- (sio-) is also local early, and in the eleventh and twelfth century. The Codex Wintoniensis (twelfth century) has similar forms, sioluc ham (C. D. 673), seolescumb, seolesburnan, sceolles uuille (C. S. 741, 408, &c.). But selesdun is a Surrey name (C. S. 558), sylweg is near Worcester C. D. 1369. In 448, 17 B. departs from Latin and other MSS. by reading æt seolesigge, where the context also is in close relation with A. S. C. C., both referring to the bishopric of Sussex. In another passage (478, 20), also relating to the Sussex bishopric, B. alters the text (reading sohton), to suit the circumstances of the day. Now the first mention of a 'Sussex' bishop, as such, in the A. S. C. is in 1038 C. &c.; cp. 980 l. c. These coincidences are very striking. MS. C. of the A. S. C. is assigned to Abingdon, and the first hand (up to 1046) is very busy about 1030–40 (cp. Earle, Introd. p. xxxvii). This is just the date assigned to MS. B. of Bede (see above). As the crow flies Selsey is about 30 miles from Winchester, a place known to B. (see above). Midway lies the Meon district (East M., West M., M. Stoke, R. Meon) with Old Winchester Hill. Now L. B. has Meanuari (iv, 13=302, 16). T. O. Ca. C. follow this and write Meanware. But Meon is the local form in all charters, except once Mene in the forged Latin C. D. 1067, taken from the English C. D. 314=C. S. 553 (K. Alfred's will, copy about 1028–32). The charters are about a dozen, nearly all from the Cod. Wint. Now MS. B. alone has Meonware, and also has an emphatic variation in the text þ is on westseaxena mægðe 7 þeode (T. O. Ca. C. omit þ is and mægðe 7). Now the Meon district is on the borders of Sussex, and in the same passage (300, 30) there is a significant omission of the words seo-Westseaxna, which place Sussex outside Wessex. But Sussex had become a shire of Wessex (Green, Conq. of Engl. p. 234). The scribe of B. is a thorough-going Wessex partisan, as he alters seaxna in 168, 35 (rightly enough), and in 248, 17 (wrongly) into Wes(t)seaxna, and for fyrrestan 166, 26 (L. intimis, ='remote'), writes fyrstan. But a curious slip connects B. still more closely with Winchester. In 468, 15 he substitutes Icenan (the R. Itchin on which the town lies) for Tinan. The context is speaking of a monastery dedicated to SS. Peter and Paul. The famous monastery at Winchester so often mentioned in charters had the same dedication.

In fact, MS. B. may be called the Wessex version of the English Bede. The changes of themselves prove that the archetype was not West-Saxon, and furthermore help to settle the locality of the other MSS. by excluding them from B.'s country. Incidentally too B.'s assigned date has been confirmed.

With the help of these fixed points, we can obtain further conclusions. B.'s ignorance of London has been pointed out above. Tilbury in Essex written in L. Tilaburg (M.), Tillaburg (I. II, both with one l above) appears in B. as Tílaburh, i.e. with long i. This leads up to the error in T. (226, 24) Tulaburh. The i is certainly short, as the doubling of l shows, a spelling confirmed by the local Tilling(e)ham C. S. 8, and C. D. 957. I may add at once that while O. Ca. are correct here, they err in the adjoining Barking, as their spelling Byrcingum, 282, 15, 20, has no local support. See

C. S. 81, 87, &c. But Byrcmære, C. S. 1037, is a Worcestershire locality.

Still in this same county B. Ca. write correctly Pante as the name of the R. Pant, for which Lat. has Pentæ mut. (M.) Paente (I. with erasure of first e); T. C. O. Pente, doubtless archetypal. Now Pantan occurs twice in Brihtnoth's Death (86, 97). The battle of Maldon (A. S. C. 991) made the name Pante famous. We get also here a test of dates for the MSS.

As we retrace the Thames upwards we find a confusion in B.'s text about Chertsey (282, 14), which shows an ignorance as to the local monastery, while he gives the form of name Ceortes eg, which has best local support; cp. C. S. 558, and other charters (twelfth century copies or later; see, however, C. D. 850). But when we arrive at Dorchester (Oxon), five or six miles from Abingdon in a straight line, we find a difference. Here B. C. O. Ca. have Dorceceastre. But, in 168, 8 where T. has dorcot-, two letters are erased in O. before ceastre, and in 334, 27 where T. has dorcet-, O. had t, now erased. L. B. has dorcic, dorci. Two Lat. charters have (i) dorcocœnsis C. D. 691 (A.D. 995), (ii) dorcensis 698 (A.D. 998 Cod. Wint.). Ælfric has Dorcan-, the A. S. C. dorces- A. G. (636, 639), dorce- A. B. C. D. E. G., dorc- G., dorca- D. E. As MS. C. (Abingdon) has dorce-, which is also generally supported, it may be considered local. The spelling of T. has slight literary support, and when compared with O. must be taken as archetypal. But B. C. Ca. alone are locally correct.

Along the west border of Oxfordshire, from the Bristol Avon towards the Warwick Avon, stretched the district of the Hwiccas. Glastonbury lies well to the south, but Malmesbury is close to the frontier. The name of Glastonbury is not in Bede. But B. has foisted it in three times for Læstinga ea, and C. once (458, 11, Wheelock). The A. S. C. has 'Glastonbury' once in G. [A.] 688, in C. once 1053; the other entries are eleventh and twelfth century (D. E. F.). All entries without exception add some form of burh. The same is true of the genuine charters in C. D. and C. S., always -burh, never ea. B. and C. were therefore unfamiliar with both districts.

Returning eastwards, we find B. at fault twice in the four examples of Hwiccas, writing (98, 15) myrcna, and (302, 13) hwylcum. The word occurs in the A. S. C. only in one year (800, A. hwiccium,

B. C. D. E. hwiccum), and though frequent in early Latin charters and their copies, fell into disuse; the forms with ci seem earlier; later copies too often drop h (C. S. 116, 134). Now MS. O. has once wiccia with h above. Here Ca. writes hwicca (336, 4). None but B. deviate absolutely.

The remotest SW. point named in Bede is Malmesbury. No word has a more vexed orthography in charters, A. S. C. and O. E. B. In C. D. twenty-four charters relate to this place; Kemble marks sixteen as forgeries. C. S. has others also; see especially Nos. 105 (grant by Pope Sergius, Latin, from William of M.) and 106 = A.S. version of 105 'from MS. Cott. Otho C. 1. Gospels, tenth century' (but is the version tenth century?). The place is associated (i) with Maildulf a 'Scot' as founder, (ii) with Meldum as founder, C. S. 105 —but the O. E. 106 has æt Meldum, (iii) with Aldelm as abbot, about 700 A. D. Hence a profusion and confusion of names, due in part to the literary forger. Those that have ancient authority are the following:—1. Maildulfi urbs, L. Bede. Hence Maldubiensis, Maeldubesburg, Maldubesberg, Malduberi, Maelduburi in a fourteenth century chartulary. But C. S. 569 from W. of M. has the earlier forms Maildubiensis, Maildubері. 2. Meldumesburg C. S. 105, Maldumes buruh, Mealdumes byrig C. S. 106. Hence Maeldumesburg, Mealdumesburg, Maldumesburg, Meldunesburg, Meldunensburg, Maeldunesburg, Meldunensis, Meldunesburgensis, Maldunensis in the fourteenth century chartulary. 3. Ealdelmes burh A. S. C. MSS. C. D. 1015. Hence in MS. F. I. Corpus Coll. Cam. (Wanley), a book of the monastery is called a book AEDHELMI, the stealing of the book is a theft from AEDHELM. 4. Then by 'contamination' in A. S. C. 1015 E. F. Mealdelmes byrig, and in Cod. Wint. C. D. 593 Mealdœlmœs byrig. The O. E. B. MSS. have Maldulfes burgh O. C. (archetypal). Aldelmesburh B., Maldmesburh Ca. (T. defect.). Clearly O. C. follow the Latin and the English archetype; once more B. is associated with A. S. C. MS. C. and has a literary or ecclesiastical appellation. But Ca. has the real local name, which appears in the fourteenth century in a still shorter shape as Malmesburg C. D. 271 = C. S. 470; but Ca.'s record is the earliest of the abiding local form. There can be little doubt that, as Ca. gives us the earliest record of the final name in so modern a shape, the scribe was familiar with the locality. As we have seen above, Ca. is excluded from Hants, but his knowledge extends to the Mercian Dorchester. His blunders exclude him from the North Midlands, his affinities and variations point to S.W. Mercia. His correction of O.'s hwiccia suits date and place. The localization seems unquestionable. The localization of O. rests largely on negative evidence. From the North Midlands mistakes exclude the scribes. Essex, Kent, Sussex, Hants (S. part) are unfamiliar; so is Malmesbury. One scribe had the local spelling for Winchester, but another hand (not Ca.) corrected him: the reverse is the case as to Dorchester. The various scribes and the corrector alike were at home among the Hwiccas. The number of hands at work implies a large community, where too there might be some who had at least visited other schools and great centres (e.g. Winchester). Perhaps Worcester best fulfils these conditions; and the diverse currents of dialect meeting there, and apparent in the local charters, reappear in MS. O. The affinities of certain blunders, as already remarked in the case of Ca., point to the same neighbourhood. Perhaps Ca. went to Worcester to copy O. MS. Ca. is a very neat and scholarly MS., but a less costly one than O., and adapted for more modest requirements. The survival (after numerous corrections) of the Mercian e in O. (see above and Introd. Pt. I), and Ca.'s preference for y (Myrce), part off the two MSS. as regards date and locality, and exhibit the victorious advance of Southern forms.

The various scribes of B. unite in the consistent adoption of Southern forms in leading proper names. Not less consistent are the scribes of T., who yet in other points differ widely. (My Glossary gives separate summaries, showing the distinctive work of each scribe in T. in all debateable points.) The local knowledge of T. cannot be proved to extend South of the Thames. Essex, London, Mercian Dorchester are known by report or literary tradition only. One variation would seem to imply knowledge of Canterbury. In 106, 6 T. has þære miclan cirican, differing from the Latin and the other MSS. which omit miclan. Against this must be set the non-local form Cont- which is decisive as to Midland origin, apart from other proofs. There is no failure as to Hwiccas. An independent form Boncra (100, 18; cp. V. R.), when compared with L. B. (Bancora M. with n above r; Boncorna I. with a above first o), certainly favours a Northern origin, perhaps implies fuller knowledge. For Chester T. O. have the older form = Latin and A. S. C. MSS. A. G., while Ca. varies (40, 31; 102, 29), and B. tends to agreement with C. (1000, 1016, 1055—perhaps 894 ie=ei-). As to Lichfield (262, 11) T. is earlier and more local; cp. Latin and C. S. 310; 312 (with variants); Ca. varies (cp. 478, 7). B. agrees with A. S. C. before 1053 (except B. 716, which has Mercian affinities and agrees with T.). Bede MS. C. writes wiccetfelda (478, 7) a bad error.

In Yorkshire, while B. O. Ca. fail repeatedly and badly (R. Derwent, Lastingham, Catterick, R. Nidd, Leeds), T.'s sole failure is characteristic. Even in the eighth century there was a difficulty as to the lost town of Calcaria (332, 26)=Kælcaestir (M.), written Helcacęstir (I.) and Faelcaestir (Namur MS.). O. E. B. MSS. have C. Kaelca- [not Kaaelca-], Ca. O. Kalca-, B. Cealca-, T. Kwelca-. Some identify the town with Healaugh near Tadcaster, but the suspicious approximation to Helcacęstir (I.) may be an accidental coincidence. The initial K is clearly archetypal (O. C. T.), and is in striking contrast to general usage[1]. Did Bede himself err in forcing a local name into resemblance with the undoubted Calcaria? T.'s mistake seems due to a misreading of open topped a in Kaelca- (cp. C.'s reading). This was taken for u, and written w. B.'s spelling Cealc- is a Southern interpretation, and corresponds to forms in Sussex, Berks, Oxon (C. D. Index). O. Ca. may have thought of Calcstanes mor (C. D. 764), calcbrac (291), both close to Worcester, with the unbroken a-. In Notts B. fails as to R. Trent (144, 14). O. has treotan (324, 15) with n above; and treontan (144, 14) with o erased. Ca. trentan (-on). Perhaps the proximity of R. trenta (near Evesham, C. D. 289, vol. iii. p. 395–6) influenced the corrector and Ca. In A. S. C. treontan A. G. 924, trentan C. D. 1013 (and also in E. here and later).

When we examine Lincolnshire, we find for Lindsey T. C. writes consistently Lindisse (-esse); O. Ca. -esse and -ese, and Ca. once Lindesege. B. has Lindesege, -ig(g)e, even -iglande (242, 14). The A. S. C. have lindesse up to end of tenth century. Lindesige begins early in the eleventh century (D. first hand), Lindesege is late eleventh century (C. 1066). But doubtless there was a confusion between ge, 'district' (as in Suðrige=Surrey, &c.), and ig, eg, 'isle.' 'Lincoln' is also varied; T. has Lindcylene, O. has Lindcylene,

[1] On the other hand it must be remembered that K for C is not unusual in the Rushworth MS. of Mt.

Lincylene, Ca. Lindcylene, Lindcolene, B. Lindcylne, Lindcolne. In the A. S. C. -coln- is an eleventh century form (C. D. E. F.). The one original charter with the name, C. D. 956, is dated 1052 A. D.

'Partney' appears as Peortan ea in T. O. Ca. B., but B. blunders once into Peotan; cp. Potwyll (Wilts) in C. D. 680. O. Ca. once have Port-, a Worcestershire form in C. D. 560, 1220, but of course elsewhere, and a natural substitution; cp. A. S. C. 501. I have found no other example of Peort-.

For 'Bardney' T. O. Ca. B. have Beardan ea; but T. has once Bearda ea, a form supported by Berdea, the spelling of C. S. 268 (Ingulph of Crowland) in a signature closely following on Medeshamsted. We may sum up, and say that in the counties on the North of Mercia T. is always correct, O. Ca. B. repeatedly blunder, and Ca. B. often exhibit eleventh century forms.

The distance between Crowland and Peterborough is about eight miles direct. Peterborough obtained its name Burh first in 992 (cp. A. S. C. 963), when the monastery destroyed by the Danes in 870 (A. S. C. cp. 963) was restored. In Latin and English Bede (280, 26) the earlier name Medeshamstede is used, but with a variation in Ca. and in T. Now Ca. writes -styde. This form for -stede has been much discussed (Sievers, P. B. Beiträge; B.-Toller, &c.). I add that out of 150 examples in charters of words with -stede suffixed, only six offer the variant -styde: (i) C. S. 506, 558; C. D. 657, all in the same locality within twenty miles of London Bridge, borders of Surrey and Kent. (ii) C. D. 685, 853 (twelfth century copies, Essex and Norfolk). (iii) C. S. 349=C. D. 202, from Heming, with date 814, in which Dunhamstyde occurs in heading and also in text. (But C. D. 680, Heming, after A. D. 972, dúnhǽmstédes.) Ca. then followed a Worcestershire lead. But the variant in T. is notable. O. Ca. B. read þætte (þe Ca.) gecweden is Medeshamstede. But T. has æt Medeshamstede is cweden. T.'s order of words is not uncommon in clauses which parenthetically indicate a proper name, omitting the relative pronoun. (The Latin is quod dicitur M.) But there is a difference in force, which is well exemplified in the variant of B. 448, 17 when compared with A. S. C. 980 C., æt Seolesigge; see above. I have found no other example of æt M. There was an estate with villages named Medeshamstede (C. S. 1128). In the interval 870–963, when nothing remained but 'old walls and woods run wild' (A. S. C. 963 E.) to mark the monastery's site, the change of expression would be natural in one familiar with the place. Now the outer leaves of MS. T., as at present bound, contain entries relating to the Benedictine Abbey of Thorney seven miles ENE. of Peterborough; cp. C. S. 1297. The district abounded in monastic establishments. In some of these T. may have been written. The chief scribe was a careful scholar living in a small establishment (Introd. Part I), and, apart from the beautiful illuminations, confined to the early part of the work, his book was planned on an inexpensive scale. We have thus an indication as to place and date of T.

Owing to the fragmentary condition of C. I am unable to fix its locality with precision. But it is certainly Midland, as shown by usages as to ongel, &c. Also it has, like B., the blunder about Glastonbury, showing ignorance of both North and South. There is a bad blunder as to Lichfield, ignorance as to R. Pant (Essex), Selsey, Meon. But the local form is given for Dorchester, and the Hwiccas were not unknown (302, 13; 478, 17). A south central position in Mercia seems indicated.

The inquiry has yielded these results. T. originated in North Mercia, is most archaic of the MSS., and belongs to the tenth century. MS. C. comes from South Mercia, MS. O. from the West of Mercia, and both are on the confines of the tenth and eleventh centuries. MS. Ca. is a copy of O., by a hand from the borders of SW. Mercia made in the eleventh century. MS. B. is associated with Hants, exhibits an eleventh century spelling, and a certain affinity with later MSS. of A. S. C. (especially C.). These results confirm and extend the conclusions stated in the Introduction to Part I.

The completeness with which the Various Readings are given has enlarged this Part so much, that it is impossible to include the Glossary in the present issue. The Glossary was completed some time ago, and may, I hope, soon follow. I have given in it summary statistics as to dialectical and grammatical variations, and in T. carefully discriminated the work of the various scribes.

My best thanks are due to friends and others mentioned already in Part I, to whose names I have the pleasure of adding those of the Rev. J. R. Harmer (Bishop Designate of Adelaide), and Rev. C. A. Pollock, Fellows of Corpus Christi College, Cambridge, and of

The Early English Text Society was started by Dr. Furnivall in 1864 for the purpose of bringing the mass of Old English Literature within the reach of the ordinary student, and of wiping away the reproach under which England had long rested, of having felt little interest in the monuments of her early language and life.

On the starting of the Society, so many Texts of importance were at once taken in hand by its Editors, that it became necessary in 1867 to open, besides the Original Series with which the Society began, an Extra Series which should be mainly devoted to fresh editions of all that is most valuable in printed MSS. and Caxton's and other black-letter books, though first editions of MSS. will not be excluded when the convenience of issuing completed Texts demands their inclusion in the Extra Series.

During the thirty-one years of the Society's existence, it has produced, with whatever shortcomings, an amount of good solid work for which all students of our Language, and some of our Literature, must be grateful, and which has renderd possible the beginnings (at least) of proper Histories and Dictionaries of that Language and Literature, and has illustrated the thoughts, the life, the manners and customs of our forefathers.

But the Society's experience has shown the very small number of those inheritors of the speech of Cynewulf, Chaucer, and Shakspere who care two guineas a year for the records of that speech. 'Let the dead past bury its dead' is still the cry of Great Britain and her Colonies, and of America, in the matter of language. The Society has never had money enough to produce the Texts that could easily have been got ready for it; and many Editors are now anxious to send to press the work they have prepared. The necessity has therefore arisen for trying whether more Texts can be got out by the plan of issuing them in advance of the current year, so that those Members who like to pay for them by advance Subscriptions, can do so, while those who prefer to wait for the year for which the volumes are markt, can do so too. To such waiters, the plan will be no injury, but a gain, as every year's Texts will then be ready on the New Year's Day on which the Subscription for them is paid.

The success of this plan will depend on the support it receives from Members, as it is obvious that the Society's printers must be paid half or two-thirds of their bill for a Text within a few months of its production. Appeal is therefore made to all Members who can spare advance Subscriptions, to pay them as soon as they get notice that the Texts for any future year are ready. In 1892, the Texts for 1893 were issued; in 1893, those for 1894 and 1895; those for 1896-8 will be ready in 1896.

The Subscription to the Society, which constitutes membership, is £1 1*s.* a year [and £1 1*s.* additional for the Extra Series], due in advance on the 1st of January, and should be paid either to the Society's Account at the Head Office of the Union Bank of London, Princes Street, London, E.C., or by Cheque, Postal Order, or Money-Order to the Hon. Secretary, W. A. Dalziel, Esq., 67 Victoria Rd., Finsbury Park, London, N., and crost 'Union Bank of London.' (United-States Subscribers must pay for postage 1*s.* 4*d.* a year extra for the Original Series, and 1*s.* a year for the Extra Series.) The Society's Texts are also sold separately at the prices put after them in the Lists.

February 1896. For this year and 1897 the Original-Series Texts were issued in 1894, and those for 1899 are now ready. The Extra-Series Texts for 1896 will soon be ready, and those for 1897 will, it is hoped, be issued in 1896. The texts of several works are now printed. Members are askt to send their two- or three-years' subscriptions for both Series at once in advance.

The Original-Series Texts for 1895 are—No. 104, Part I of Mr. Gollancz's re-edition of The Exeter Book, from the unique MS., a collection of the choicest Anglo-Saxon lyric poetry, with a modern English translation. The second is Part I of the Prymer or Lay Folks' Prayer-Book, from the MS. ab. 1420 A.D., in the Cambr. Univ. Libr., ed. by Mr. Hy. Littlehales, with two leaves of Facsimiles. This forms a valuable portion of the Society's Pre-Reformation vernacular Liturgical Series, undertaken on the recommendation of the late Canon Simmons.

The Extra-Series Texts for 1895 are two prose Romances from unique MSS., about 1500 A.D., englisht from French originals: The Three Kings' Sons (of France, Scotland, England), Part I, the text, ed. Dr. F. J. Furnivall; Melusine, Pt. I, the text, ed. A. K. Donald, B.A.

The Original-Series Texts for 1896 are both dialectal: No. 106, Richard Misyn's—he was Prior of Lincoln—englishings in 1434 and 1435 of Richard Rolle of Hampole's Fire of Love and Mending of Life, edited by the Rev. Rt. Harvey, M.A., Headmaster of the Cork Grammar School;—this Text, tho not in a pure dialect, is interesting for forms like sarif, for serve, &c.[1];—and No. 107, The English Conquest of Ireland, 1166-85, two parallel-texts of about 1425 and 1440, of which the earlier has now and then dyng, tynge, for thing, &c., edited by Dr. Furnivall.

The Extra-Series Texts for 1896 will doubtless be the Second Part of the prose Romance of Melusine—Introduction, with ten facsimiles of the best woodblocks of the old foreign black-letter editions, Glossary, &c., by A. K. Donald, B.A.; and a new edition of the famous Early-English Dictionary (English and Latin), Promptorium Parvulorum, from the Winchester MS., ab. 1440 A.D.: in this, the Editor, the Rev. A. L. Mayhew, M.A., will follow and print his MS. not only in its arrangement of nouns first, and verbs second, under every letter of the Alphabet, but also in its giving of the flexions of the words. The Society's edition will thus be the first modern one that really represents its original, a point on which Mr. Mayhew's insistance will meet with the sympathy of all our Members.

For 1897, the Original-Series Texts are, No. 108, Child-Marriages and -Divorces, Trothplights, Adulteries, Affiliations, Libels, Wills, Miscellanea, Clandestine Marriages, Depositions in Trials in the Bishop's Court, Chester, A.D. 1561-6, with Entries from the Chester Mayors' Books, 1558-1600, ed. Dr. F. J. Furnivall,—a most curious volume, full of the social life of its time;—and Part II of the Prymer or Lay-Folks' Prayer-book, edited by Mr. Henry Littlehales, with a Paper by Mr. Bishop on the Origin and Growth of the Prymer.

The Extra-Series Texts for 1897 will probably be Dr. Norman Moore's re-edition of The Book of the Foundation of St. Bartholomew's Hospital, London, from the unique MS. ab. 1425, which gives an account of the Founder, Rahere, and the miraculous cures wrought at the Hospital;—Lydgate's Assembly of the Gods, ed. Dr. Oscar L. Triggs, and The Craft of Nombrynge, with other of the earliest englisht Treatises on Arithmetic, edited by R. Steele, B.A., or Alexander Scott's Poems, 1568, from the unique Edinburgh MS., ed. A. K. Donald, B.A.

The Original-Series Texts for 1898 are Nos. 110, 111,—Part II, Sections 1 and 2, of Dr. T. Miller's Collations of Four MSS. of the Old-English Version of Bede's Ecclesiastical History.

The Original-Series Texts for 1899 will be No. 112, Queen Elizabeth's Englishings of Boethius de Consolatione, Plutarch's De Curiositate, and part of Horace, De Arte Poetica, edited from the unique MS. (a portion in the Queen's own hand) in the Public Record Office, London, by the late Miss C. Pemberton, with a Facsimile, and a note on the Queen's use of i for long e; and No. 113, Jacob's Well, a quaint allegorical treatise on the cleansing and building-up of Man's Conscience, edited from the unique MS. in Salisbury Cathedral, by Dr. J. W. Brandeis.

During 1892, two unexpected sources of help to the Society sprang up. First, Mr. Henry Littlehales of Bexley Heath, who had printed a MS. of the English Prymer, ab. 1400 A.D., kindly offerd to copy, and pay for the setting, not only of the Cambridge University MS. of the Prymer, ab. 1425 A.D., but also of a series of extracts from the Rochester Diocesan Registers, illustrating the religious condition and social life of the diocese.

The second promise of help came, most gratifyingly, from the University of Chicago. Two Professors in the English Department there, Mr. MacClintock and Mr. Oscar Triggs—with the assent of their Principal, Dr. Harper—agreed to edit and print at the Chicago University Press, two Early English Texts to be issued jointly by the University and the E. E. T. Society, the Society paying for its electrotypes. Prof. MacClintock chose the theological collection of John Lacy of Newcastle, A.D. 1434, and Prof. Triggs chose Lydgate's Assembly of the Gods. The latter of these is now at press in Chicago.

[1] The first issue of the Glossary has been canceld, and a revised one issued.

Such relief as the E. E. T. Soc. gets from the above-named helpers will be devoted to its Reprinting Fund. The out-of-print Texts for 1866 are greatly wanted by members and collectors to complete their sets of the Society's publications.

An urgent appeal is hereby made to Members to increase the list of Subscribers to the E. E. Text Society. It is nothing less than a scandal that the Hellenic Society should have nearly 1000 members, while the Early English Text Society has only about 300!

The Original-Series Texts for 1900 and 1901 will be chosen from books already at press: Part II of the Minor Poems of the Vernon MS., edited by Dr. F. J. Furnivall; Mr. Gollancz's re-edited Exeter-Book—Anglo-Saxon Poems from the unique MS. in Exeter Cathedral—Part II ; Dr. Bruce's Introduction to The English Conquest of Ireland, Part II ; Dr. Furnivall's edition of the Lichfield Gilds, which is all printed, and waits only for the Introduction, that Prof. E. C. K. Gonner has kindly undertaken to write for the book. Prof. Mead has sent to press the completion of the prose Merlin, for which the Society has been looking in vain from its Treasurer since 1870. Miss Mary Bateson has at press George Ashby's Active Policy of a Prince, &c., from the unique MS., A.D. 1463. Mr. Utley is home from Roumania, and promises to finish Lyndesay's Works this year. Dr. G. Herzfeld's re-edition of the Anglo-Saxon Martyrology is all in type. Part II of Dr. Holthausen's Vices and Virtues needs only its Glossary.

Mr. Steele has in type, besides the earliest Treatise on Arithmetic, englisht from Johannes de Sacro Bosco, two prose englishings of the Secreta Secretorum from MSS. at Lambeth, the second of which is very rich in new words. A version by James Yonge in 1428, made for the Earl of Ormonde, has been copied from its Rawlinson MS. at Oxford, and collated with the later Lambeth MS. All three versions differ widely.

The Texts for the Extra Series in 1898 and 1899 will be chosen from The Three Kings' Sons, Part II, the Introduction &c. by Dr. Leon Kellner; The Towneley Plays, re-edited from the unique MS. by Mr. George England and A. W. Pollard, M.A.; Part II of The Chester Plays, re-edited from the MSS., with a full collation of the formerly missing Devonshire MS., by Mr. G. England (at press); the Parallel-Text of the only two MSS. of the Owl and Nightingale, edited by Mr. G. F. H. Sykes (at press); Hoccleve's englishing of De Regimine Principum, 1411-12, and Robert of Brunne's Handlyng Synne, edited by Dr. Furnivall ; Deguilleville's Pilgrimage of the Life of Man, three prose versions—two English, one French—edited by G. N. Currie, M.A. Some of these Texts will be ready in 1894. Members are therefore askt to send Advance Subscriptions for 1897, 1898, 1899 and 1900, in order that the 1897-1900 books may be issued to them as soon as the editions are finisht. The Society's experience has shown that Editors must be taken when they are in the humour for work. All real Students and furtherers of the Society's purpose will be ready to push-on the issue of Texts. Those Members who care only a guinea a year (or can afford only that sum) for the history of our language and our nation's thought, will not be hurt by those who care more, getting their books in advance ; on the contrary, they will be benefited, as each successive year's work will then be ready for issue on New Year's Day. Members are askt to realise the fact that the Society has now 50 years' work on its Lists,—at its present rate of production,—and that there is from 100 to 200 more years' work to come after that. The year 2000 will not see finisht all the Texts that the Society ought to print.

Mr. G. N. Currie is preparing an edition of the 15th and 16th century Prose Versions of Guillaume de Deguilleville's Pilgrimage of the Life of Man, with the French prose version by Jean Gallopes, from Mr. Henry Hucks Gibbs's MS., Mr. Gibbs having generously promist to pay the extra cost of printing the French text, and engraving one or two of the illuminations in his MS.

Guillaume de Deguilleville, monk of the Cistercian abbey of Chaalis, in the diocese of Senlis, wrote his first verse Pelerinaige de l'Homme in 1330-1 when he was 36.[1] Twenty-five (or six) years after, in 1355, he revised his poem, and issued a second version of it, and this is the only one that has been printed. Of the prose representative of the first version, 1330-1, a prose Englishing, about 1430 A.D., was edited by Mr. Aldis Wright for the Roxburghe Club in 1869, from MS. Ff. 5. 30 in the Cambridge University Library. Other copies of this prose English are in the Hunterian Museum, Glasgow, Q. 2. 25 ; Univ. Coll. and Corpus Christi, Oxford[2] ; and the Laud Collection in the Bodleian, no. 740. A copy in the Northern dialect is MS. G. 21, in St. John's Coll., Cambridge, and this is the MS. which will be edited by Mr. Sidney J. Herrtage for the E. E. Text Society. The Laud MS. 740 was somewhat condenst and modernised, in the 17th century, into MS. Ff. 6. 30, in the Cambridge University Library:[3] "The Pilgrime or the Pilgrimage of Man in this World," copied by Will. Baspoole, whose copy "was verbatim written by Walter Parker, 1645, and from thence transcribed by G. G. 1649 ; and from thence by W. A. 1655." This last copy may have been read by, or its story reported to, Bunyan, and may have been the groundwork of his Pilgrim's Progress.

[1] He was born about 1295. See Abbé GOUJET'S Bibliotheque française, Vol. IX, p. 73-4.—P. M.
[2] These 3 MSS. have not yet been collated, but are believed to be all of the same version.

It will be edited by Mr. Currie for the E. E. T. Soc., its text running under the earlier English; as in Mr. Herrtage's edition of the Gesta Romanorum for the Society. In February 1464,[1] Jean Gallopes—a clerk of Angers, afterwards chaplain to John, Duke of Bedford, Regent of France—turned Deguilleville's first verse Pelerinaige into a prose Pèlerinage de la vie humaine.[2] By the kindness of Mr. Hy. Hucks Gibbs, as above mentiond, Gallopes's French text will be printed opposite the early prose northern Englishing in the Society's edition.

The Second Version of Deguilleville's Pelerinaige de l'Homme, A.D. 1355 or -6, was englisht in verse by Lydgate in 1426. Of Lydgate's poem, the larger part is in the Cotton MS. Vitellius C. xiii (leaves 2-308). This MS. leaves out Chaucer's englishing of Deguilleville's A B C or Prayer to the Virgin, of which the successive stanzas start with A, B, C, and run all thro' the alphabet; and it has 2 gaps, of which most of the second can be fild up from the end of the other imperfect MS. Cotton, Tiberius A vii. The rest of the stopgaps must be got from the original French in Harleian 4399,[3] and Additional 22,937[4] and 25,594[5] in the British Museum. Lydgate's version will be edited in due course for the Society.

Besides his first Pelerinaige de l'homme in its two versions, Deguilleville wrote a second, "de l'ame separee du corps," and a third, "de nostre seigneur Iesus." Of the second, a prose Englishing of 1413, The Pilgrimage of the Sowle (perhaps in part by Lydgate), exists in the Egerton MS. 615,[6] at Hatfield, Cambridge (Univ. Kk. 1. 7, Caius), Oxford (Univ. Coll. and Corpus), and in Caxton's edition of 1483. This version has 'somewhat of addicions' as Caxton says, and some shortenings too, as the maker of both, the first translator, tells us in the MSS. Caxton leaves out the earlier englisher's interesting Epilog in the Egerton MS. This prose englishing of the Sowle will be edited for the Society after that of the Man is finisht, and will have Gallopes's French opposite it, from Mr. Gibbs's MS., as his gift to the Society. Of the Pilgrimage of Jesus, no englishing is known.

As to the MS. Anglo-Saxon Psalters, Dr. Hy. Sweet has edited the oldest MS., the Vespasian, in his Oldest English Texts for the Society, and Mr. Harsley has edited the latest, c. 1150, Eadwine's Canterbury Psalter. The other MSS., except the Paris one, being interlinear versions,—some of the Roman-Latin redaction, and some of the Gallican,—Prof. Logeman has prepared for press, a Parallel-Text edition of the first twelve Psalms, to start the complete work. He will do his best to get the Paris Psalter—tho' it is not an interlinear one—into this collective edition; but the additional matter, especially in the Verse-Psalms, is very difficult to manage. If the Paris text cannot be parallelised, it will form a separate volume. The Early English Psalters are all independent versions, and will follow separately in due course.

Through the good offices of the Examiners, some of the books for the Early-English Examinations of the University of London will be chosen from the Society's publications, the Committee having undertaken to supply such books to students at a large reduction in price. The profits from these sales, after the payment of costs arising out of the issuing of such Texts to Students, will be applied to the Society's Reprints. Five of its 1866 Texts, and one of its 1867 (now at press), still need reproducing. Donations for this purpose will be welcome. They should be paid to the Hon. Sec., Mr. W. A. Dalziel, 67 Victoria Rd., Finsbury Park, London, N.

Members are reminded that fresh Subscribers are always wanted, and that the Committee can at any time, on short notice, send to press an additional Thousand Pounds' worth of work.

The Subscribers to the Original Series must be prepared for the issue of the whole of the Early English Lives of Saints, sooner or later. The Society cannot leave out any of them, even though some are dull. The Sinners would doubtless be much more interesting. But in many Saints' Lives will be found valuable incidental details of our forefathers' social state, and all are worthful for the history of our language. The Lives may be lookt on as the religious romances or story-books of their period.

The Standard Collection of Saints' Lives in the Corpus and Ashmole MSS., the Harleian MS. 2277, &c. will repeat the Laud set, our No. 87, with additions, and in right order. (The foundation MS. (Laud 108) had to be printed first, to prevent quite unwieldy collations.) The Supplementary Lives from the Vernon and other MSS. will form one or two separate volumes.

Besides the Saints' Lives, Trevisa's englishing of Bartholomæus de Proprietatibus Rerum, the mediæval Cyclopædia of Science, &c., will be the Society's next big undertaking. Dr. R. von Fleischhacker will edit it. Prof. Napier of Oxford, wishing to have the whole of our MS. Anglo-Saxon in type, and accessible to students, will edit for the Society all the unprinted and other Anglo-Saxon Homilies which are not included in Thorpe's edition of

1 According to Mr. Hy. Hucks Gibbs's MS.
2 These were printed in France, late in the 15th or early in the 16th century.
3 15th cent., containing only the Vie humaine.
4 15th cent., containing all the 3 Pilgrimages, the 3rd being Jesus Christ's.
5 14th cent., containing the Vie humaine and the 2nd Pilgrimage, de l'Ame: both incomplete.

Ælfric's prose,[1] Dr. Morris's of the Blickling Homilies, and Prof. Skeat's of Ælfric's Metrical Homilies. Prof. Kölbing has also undertaken for the Society's Extra Series a Parallel-Text of all the six MSS. of the Ancren Riwle, one of the most important foundation-documents of Early English. Mr. Harvey, too, means to prepare an edition of the three MSS. of the Earliest English Metrical Psalter, one of which was edited by the late Mr. Stevenson for the Surtees Society.

In case more Texts are ready at any time than can be paid for by the current year's income, they will be dated the next year, and issued in advance to such Members as will pay advance subscriptions. The 1886-7 delay in getting out Texts must not occur again, if it can possibly be avoided. The Director has in hand for future volunteer Editors, copies of 2 or 3 MSS.

Members of the Society will learn with pleasure that its example has been followed, not only by the Old French Text Society which has done such admirable work under its founders Profs. Paul Meyer and Gaston Paris, but also by the Early Russian Text Society, which was set on foot in 1877, and has since issued many excellent editions of old MS. Chronicles &c.

Members will also note with pleasure the annexation of large tracts of our Early English territory by the important German contingent under General Zupitza, Colonel Kölbing, volunteers Hausknecht, Einenkel, Haenisch, Kaluza, Hupe, Adam, Holthausen, Schick, Herzfeld, Brandeis, &c. Scandinavia has also sent us Prof. Erdmann; Holland, Prof. H. Logeman, who is now working in Belgium; France, Prof. Paul Meyer—with Gaston Paris as adviser; —Italy, Prof. Lattanzi; Hungary, Dr. von Fleischhacker; while America is represented by Prof. Child, Dr. Mary Noyes Colvin, Profs. Mead, Perrin, McClintock, Triggs, &c. The sympathy, the ready help, which the Society's work has cald forth from the Continent and the United States, have been among the pleasantest experiences of the Society's life, a real aid and cheer amid all troubles and discouragements. All our Members are grateful for it, and recognise that the bond their work has woven between them and the lovers of language and antiquity across the seas is one of the most welcome results of the Society's efforts.

ORIGINAL SERIES.

Half the Publications for 1866 (13, 14, 15, 18, 22) are out of print, but will be gradually reprinted. Subscribers who desire the issue for 1866 should send their guineas at once to the Hon. Secretary, in order that other Texts for 1866 may be sent to press.

The Society is anxious to hear of more early Dialect MSS. John Lacy's copy, in the Newcastle-on-Tyne dialect, 1434, of some theological tracts in MS. 94 of St. John's College, Oxford, is to be edited by Prof. McClintock. More Hampoles in the Yorkshire dialect will follow. The Lincoln and Norfolk Wills, already copied by or for Dr. Furnivall, unluckily show but little traces of dialect.

More members (to bring money) and Editors (to bring brains) are wanted by the Society.
